Child abuse is a serious problem that exists in all our communities. Educators, doctors, nurses and social workers are required by law to respond to signs of child abuse. The Western Cape Education Department has published a policy document called Abuse No More: Dealing Effectively with Child Abuse, which provides detailed guidelines on how to approach this sensitive issue.

This Policy does not replace a thorough reading of the Policy Document given the legal obligations of educators in terms of Section 15 of the Child Care Amendment Act (Act 96 of 1996).

While intended for educators, this Policy can also be referred to by others who wish to know more about the nature of child abuse, and how staff are obliged to respond to signs of learners' child abuse in their care. It considers:

- A. How to identify child abuse;
- B. Dealing with disclosure; and
- C. Dealing with alleged offenders.

Role Players

Tania Gray acts as HPP School's Abuse-No-More Officer. Tania Gray is overseen in this role by the Chairperson of the board of directors, Mark Allen.

A. How to identify child abuse

If you have any doubts, discuss your observations with the Abuse-No-More Officer or social worker.

Firstly the main types and typical symptoms<sup>1</sup> of child abuse is highlighted. Symptoms must not be viewed in isolation.

- Physical abuse, e.g. injuries over a period of time or at various stages of healing (cuts, bruises, burn marks, abrasions, fractures) which cannot be explained.
- Neglect, e.g. the child does not grow and/or loses weight, is pale and emaciated, is constantly vomiting and/or has constant diarrhoea or does not reach developmental milestones within normal age-range.
- Sexual Abuse, e.g. pain or unusual itching of genitals or anal area, sexually transmitted diseases, difficulty in sitting or walking, regular urinary infection or continual irritation and/or mouth sores (owing to forced oral sex).
- Emotional abuse, e.g. bedwetting, soiling and continual complaints of headaches, nausea, and/or stomach pain for which there is no physical cause.

If you suspect some form of child abuse:

- 1. Gather information about your suspicion without implicating any person.
- 2. Document your information in a file (e.g. information from the learner, information from other learners and/or parents, and reports from parents and educators).
- Treat this information as highly confidential (all information gathered must be placed on a separate file and safely stored. This information may not be discussed with other staff, learners, or parents).
- 4. Report your suspicions to the Abuse-No-More Officer.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Symptoms are covered in more detail in the Abuse No More document (pages 12 to 17)

B. Dealing with disclosure

B.1. DISCLOSURE FILE AND CONFIDENTIALITY

Document all information gathered from the learner to ensure that you have enough information about the disclosure. This will help you should the South African Police Services (SAPS) require a sworn statement in a criminal case (Refer Annex B for Information Guidelines).

When a learner communicates a complaint to you or when you suspect abuse:

- i. Open a file for the case;
- ii. Place all relevant statements and documents about the case in this file. If the alleged offender is an employee, the original documents must be forwarded as confidential to the H:SLES at the EMDC for the attention of the Labour Relations officer and copies of the documents must be kept in the folder;
- iii. Do not put a name on the file, and entrust it directly to the Abuse-No-More Officer;
- The Abuse-No-More Officer must give the case a number, put this number on the folder, and record it in a confidential register which reflects the name and number of every case;
- v. So as not to reveal the identity of the complainant, both the folder and the confidential register must at all times be kept in a locked cabinet or safe to which only the Abuse-No-More Officer and Chairperson have access. They are therefore the only persons who can retrieve a folder or file when it is needed.

B.2. DISCLOSURE PROCESS

Disclosure of abuse can be a very traumatic experience for both the complainant and the educator assisting the child, and must be handled as sensitively as possible. (See Annex C). Take note of your specific role in the process and the role of the Abuse-No-More Officer.

- 1. Ensure the safety of the learner (in collaboration with the SAPS and the social worker, ensure that the learner will not have direct contact with the alleged offender).
- Explain to the learner that you will treat all the information in a confidential way, but in order to help her or him, you are legally obliged to report the case to other roleplayers such as the social worker and/or the SAPS. Explain the roles that they will play as well as the procedures that will be followed in steps 3 - 9.

- 3. Inform the Abuse-No-More Officer (unless he or she is implicated). No detailed information about the alleged abuse needs to be disclosed at this stage.
- Assist the Abuse-No-More Officer in contacting the relevant role-players provided in the list below (within three days after the incident) in order to decide on the process of intervention. The local welfare organisation;
  - The school psychologist;
  - The Milnerton Child Protection Unit;
  - Hout Bay SAPS;
  - Labour Relations, when employees are the alleged offenders;
  - The complainant's parent(s), provided that they are not the alleged offenders;
  - The Child Protection Centre;
  - The Department of Health and the Department of Social Services;
  - The school nurse (if available), or (if applicable) the ELSEN school nurse.

If you are not sure which ones to contact, contact the school social worker or WCED's Safe Schools Call Centre at 0800-45-46-47 or Cape Town School Clinic at (021) 465-2438.

- 5. Assist the Abuse-No-More Officer to compile a confidential report for the social worker and SAPS. Assist the Abuse-No-More Officer in meeting with the relevant role-players mentioned in Step 4, to draw up a plan of action to indicate the responsibilities of each participant in the intervention process.
- The Abuse-No-More Officer must report the case or incident to the Head: Specialised Support Services (H:SSS) at the relevant Education Management and Development Centre (EMDC).
- 7. The Abuse-No-More Officer will follow up with all the role-players, document the process and inform the employee of progress and also pass such information on to the Head: Specialised Support Services.
- 8. Keep the learner and, if appropriate, the parent(s) informed of steps taken by the role-players and the outcome of the investigation.
- 9. Assist the Abuse-No-More Officer in monitoring the learner's emotional, mental and physical health, discuss it with his or her parents, and refer the learner for further professional help as necessary.

NB: Once a complaint has been lodged with an employee by a complainant, the Abuse-No-More Officer or Chairperson and the employee must refer the matter to the relevant people within three days.

C. Dealing with alleged offenders

The following guidelines refer to situations where the alleged offender is another learner or school employee, or the principal.

Under no circumstances should the incident of child abuse be discussed with the alleged offender.

What to do when a learner is the alleged offender:

- Follow steps 1 9 above to assist the alleged learner offender. This should be seen as an attempt to prevent the alleged offender from committing further abuse. Implement the following additional procedure if necessary:
- Contact the alleged offender's parents, inform them of the incidents and discuss a plan of action for support and intervention.
- Refer the alleged offender for emotional support and therapy if necessary.
- Arrange for temporary suspension of the alleged offender, depending on the circumstances and only if in the best interest of other learners and the school. (If the offence was serious enough to merit suspension or expulsion the Abuse-No-More Officer will refer the matter to the board of directors.)

What to do when an educator, the principal or school employee is the alleged offender:

- The parent, educator or employee to whom the disclosure was made should inform the Abuse-No-More Officer.
- The Abuse-No-More Officer will inform the Head: Specialised Support Services at the relevant EMDC, who will in turn inform the department's Labour Relations personnel.

What to do when the Abuse-no-More Officer is the alleged offender:

• The employee to whom the disclosure was made should inform the Chairperson. The employee and/or the Chairperson to whom the disclosure was made should also forward all relevant documents to the Head: Specialised Support Services at the local EMDC.

ANNEX B: DISCLOSURE GUIDELINES

Under no circumstances should the incident of child abuse be discussed with the alleged offender.

The DO NOT's

- DO NOT take a statement from the complainant, as the investigating officer of the SAPS will do this.
- DO NOT interrogate the complainant in order to obtain information or to "investigate" the case.
- DO NOT insist on seeing the physical evidence of abuse.
- DO NOT examine the complainant for signs of sexual abuse or rape by removing clothes and/or touching or examining the private parts.
- DO NOT confront the parents or the caregivers if they are the suspected or alleged perpetrators.

The DO's:

When disclosure takes place it is necessary to communicate the following:

- I believe what you are telling me.
- I acknowledge that you feel uncomfortable about the incident.
- I appreciate your courage in speaking to me.
- I am sorry to hear what has happened to you.
- It is not your fault.
- In order to help you, I will have to speak to another person.
- Whatever may happen to the alleged offender is not your fault.

NOTES:

- The complainant may be unwilling to lay a charge against the alleged offender for fear of intimidation.
- The complainant may feel powerless and may have been sworn to secrecy by the alleged offender.
- The complainant may be related to the alleged offender and may want to protect the family.
- The complainant may feel that she or he lacks support because no one will believe her or him.
- Often the mother has divided loyalties and protects the father (or boyfriend, uncle, brother, grandfather, etc.) because of financial or emotional dependence.
- The complainant may love the alleged offender and just wants the abuse to stop.

The complainant may be afraid of being removed from the family.

DO NOT use the disclosure information guidelines as a checklist with the child. The complainant must be given the opportunity to speak spontaneously.
